ALL-NAZI RECHSTAG WILL HEAR HITLER PROTEST ON ARMS

LOCARNO PACT IS CERTAIN TO DRAW BERLIN FIRE

French Wall Around Germany Arouses Charge of Failure to Live Up to Spirit of Treaty

By TOM WILHELM

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Berlin, July 12.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's speech before the all-Nazi Reichstag tomorrow, the most important pronouncement since the beginning of the third Reich, will be a protest against the encirclement of Germany just completed, it became known today.

In effect, the Nazi chancellor will protest the use of the Locarno pact in violation of the "Locarno spirit."

It was the Locarno pact, the agreement hailed as promising an era of goodwill and peaceful spirit in Europe, that Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, used as the basis of the political wall of friendly walls in the east by the building around Germany.

The Locarno pact, the Nazi chancellor may recall, was drawn to protect Germany as well as France from an invasion against the Franco-German border, but it has since little inclination today to invade it in Germany's favor.

Germany will be submitted to the last man tomorrow to hear Hitler's speech. A special order was issued by the ministry of propaganda for the unprecedented, collective mass broadcasting of the speech, organized in such a way that no one will have any excuse for missing what the chancellor has to say.

THINK SUCCESS NEAR

Hitler will outline the injustice of Germany's present position, will denounce Germany's enemies with a show of the ancient German fighting spirit and then will plead for peace. The key to the international attitude is to be found in the speech of Rudolph Hess, the Nazi second-in-command which Hitler read and approved. And what has happened since with the reported success of Barthou's mission to England has only strengthened that attitude.

It is not hard to read a government's mind in a country where every important political utterance of the press is governmentally inspired. In Paris it is reported there is much skepticism as to whether Barthou's complicated system of alliances, "Eastern Locarno," "Middle Eastern Locarno," and a new "Western Locarno," including Russia, will be worth the paper they are on, but here the press and the government, thinks that Barthou has succeeded.

Barthou's domestic political problem would be if only the French had the same respect for his word that the Germans have. The Berlin Tagblatt, once England, the old balance of power nation, consenting to France's complete mastery of the continent. The Tagblatt says:

"France has arrived at last where she has always wanted to be. Only the wholly naive will view as a defeat for France the fact that there was no London talk of an alliance."

LUCKLESS MAN HELD IN BREAK

Lawrence, July 12.—Dorling all his 21 years the luck of George Gilbert, of Ward street, Salem, never was good.

And today was no exception. He wandered through an open kitchen door at 27 Swan street here. He thought the house was empty, but he wasn't very careful about the way he stepped. He fell, and down he was ransacked a bedroom, when Patrolman Patrick Barry walked in from an adjoining room in his pajamas. It was just the luck that he should pick on the house of a policeman who is on night duty—and a good worker. Gilbert will be arraigned on charges of breaking and entering and attempted larceny.

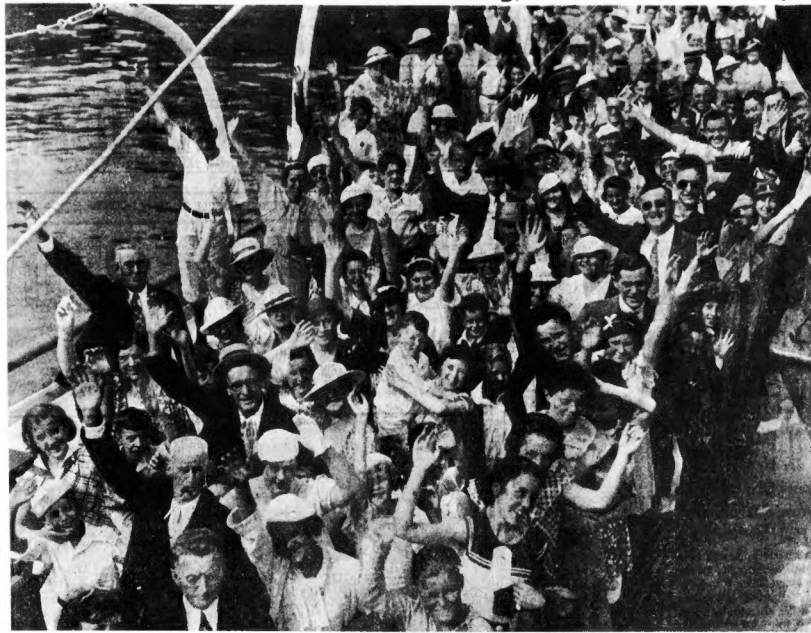

Barthou Sees Gain for Secured Peace

Paris, July 12 (U.S.).—The peace of Europe has been strengthened by his recent visit to England, Romania and Japan, said Louis Barthou, foreign minister, told the French cabinet today. He said he considered his recent activities as definitely advancing mutual partnership of security which France regards as essential to peace.

Raiders Get 15,000 Lottery Tickets

Police seized 15,000 tickets on lotteries, including the Irish, Army and Navy and Grand National sweepstakes, treasury balance, counter and baseball pools when they raided a store in Moody street, Waltham.

'Sh-h-h! We Don't Know Where We're Going, But We're on Our Way!'

It was the Boston Evening American "Mystery Cruise" when these joyous seagoers and many others embarked on the Cape Cod Steamship Co. excursion steamer Steel Pier. No one knew where their destination was to be, even the puzzled skipper. Not until the lines were cast off at Commercial wharf and the craft dropped down the harbor. Then a vote was taken among the passengers. And Provincetown was the almost unanimous choice. The fleet's in! The news was flashed back to shore by wireless and the captain's bow cleared. (Picture by Boston Evening American Staff Photographers.)

S. S. Steel Pier Casts Off; Destination Unknown

Lines were loosed today, the gangplank was run in and the "Mystery Cruise" of the Cape Cod Steamship Company's ship, Steel Pier, began. First Commercial wharf—but where their destination was neither the captain nor the passengers knew.

Nobody knew until the passengers, once away from the wharf, began hallooing, with the passion of a vote that—other than Provincetown, Africa, the West Coast and like distant points.

The vote for destination on the grounds of Provincetown was for a cruise possible within the sailing time of 10:15 a. m. for departure and 4 p. m. for return, and there was plenty of excitement during the sailing.

It might have been the North Shore somewhere on the South Shore, Provincetown, where the United States fleet has arrived—anyone of a number of destinations. It was all up to the passengers.

12,000 of ERA Have Hours Cut

More than 12,000 men and women in the Boston ERA will begin the stagger system today. Administrators of the ERA Hall announced.

Workers who are now working three days a week, four weeks a month, under the new system, where it can be applied, will be reduced to work three days a week only two weeks a month, a reduction from 12 days pay to six.

"I just took the governor's word," Funnell told the governor. "I paid three-quarters of the investors in full. The remainder received about 37 per cent. I did not take a penny."

The man who sold deals in meats in the market—who once talked Greater Boston out of millions in his get-rich-quick scheme—was eager in his valedictory, the most important conversation of his career.

"I gave up my home. I gave up my liberty. Later I lost my mother. I think—the failure—the punishment was a little too much."

"I don't want a pardon on the grounds of innocence. I want it to save me from deportation. My attitude has changed. It was bad. I realize I had the wrong outlook on life."

"I feel it gives me the opportunity I can make an honest living. I cannot make restitution."

Near Tears as Wife Pleads His Cause
"I want to earn the forgiveness of the people I hurt and live a decent life."

Mrs. Ponzil, in a blue silk dress and a white, blue-trimmed hat, told the governor of her marriage to Charles Ponzil, the unknown, 16 years ago—two years before he flashed like a meteor across the financial skies to drop with a crash.

"I can't understand my husband," she said.
"With all the money we had we lived a plain ordinary life. Since the trouble I have worked. Even my own family invested money."

"When I got married I had a few hundred dollars and that was invested also. I asked my husband why he allowed us to invest this money.
"She was overcautious," her voice broke and tears flooded her eyes. Ponzil patted her on the shoulder.

"The prospect of my money wasn't pleasant. . . . All I ask is that you make me an heir."

Cookley declared that even the victims of Ponzil's manipulations would like to see him pardoned. He said:

"If he had gone to Italy with the money I do not think there would have been much chance of getting him back by extradition. He stayed and faced the music."

He said when Ponzil surrendered he had $10,000 which was entrusted, through Cookley, to Mrs. Ponzil Cookley declared.

ROCKEFELLER'S AIDE HITLER'S MASTER MIND

New York, July 12.—Roy Lee, millionaire press agent for the John D. Rockefeller interests, was revealed today as the "master mind" behind the Adolf Hitler-German government disarmament policies.

Documents exchanged between Lee and the German dys trust, who retained him at $25,000-a-year, were placed in the records of the Congressional committee investigating "un-American activities."

Lee went so far as to urge Herr von Ribbentrop, German minister of armament, personal envoy of Hitler, and "Mystery Man of German politics," to visit President Roosevelt for a conference on the issue expounded by himself.

CAMPBELL SUGGESTED
The documents were admittedly intended for transmission by his employees to the German government executives. One of them read:

"Could not a suggestion be made that Mr. von Ribbentrop undertake a definite campaign to clarify the American mind in the disarmament question and vice versa in Germany under a similar effort in reference to the same?"

"Could it not be suggested that Lee of all men be a series of press conferences dealing respectively with these two subjects. Also could not arrangements be made whereby each of these gentlemen could speak over the radio to the American people on these points?"

"Furthermore, each of them should write a considered article for an important American publication, dealing comprehensively with these two subjects. Specifically with reference to the disarmament question could not Mr. von Ribbentrop make a visit to the United States with a view to explaining Germany's position to President Roosevelt, and while he was here address the President's radio address and the Council in Foreign Relations on these subjects?"

SON PAID SALARY

"In case such a visit culminated, Mr. von Ribbentrop, in any public utterance in the United States, should make it clear that the disarmament question and with no other aspect of Germany's policy."

Two other striking disclosures by the committee showed that Lee's son, James Lee, 2nd, was paid a salary of $35,000 a year to act as his father's representative in Berlin, and that payments from the German dys trust were listed on the books of a publicity firm as coming from the Swiss dys company.

Dorothy Can't Bear Baer

By Universal Service
New Angeles, July 12.—Dorothy Dunbar Baer, divorced wife of Max Baer, heavyweight champion, is so annoyed at his revelations of her life together that she does not want even Max's name.

Through her attorney, Wallace Davis, Dorothy has petitioned Superior Court for permission to drop the name of Baer and resume her name by a former marriage, Dorothy Wells.

Dorothy won't even talk to Max on the long distance telephone. Max, according to report, telephoned Dorothy every night for the chance that she might be willing to forgive if not forget. But Dorothy is just one continual "Don't answer," so far as Max is concerned.

POLICE LINK 7 BANDITS TO 3 CITIES

Vanity Case Clue Is Found in Everett; stolen Car Traced

City Marshal Daniel J. Casey, of Gloucester, announced today that the deadline in the hunt for the seven gangsters suspected of the $25,000 jewel robbery at the Haddon-Rennard store in Magnolia would come by tonight. He said: "Detectives have made considerable progress and we will know tonight whether we shall make an immediate arrest in the case."

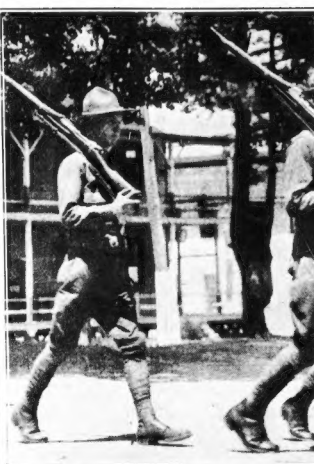

THREE CITIES LINKED
This was all the marshal would admit for the moment.
It was learned from several sources that the number of the robbers has been definitely set. It remains at seven, as was reported yesterday.
The seven bandits are linked with three cities, Boston, New York and Providence.
Investigators today appealed to the public at large to aid them in establishing identity of the owner of a vanity case found in a stolen sedan found in Everett yesterday.

CLUE IN VANITY CASE
The car is owned by a Stoughton nurse. When it was recovered, a vanity case with a note "Miss Lou, Jr." on the lid, was found in the machine. The nurse said that the vanity didn't belong to her.

SOCIETY GIRL ARRESTED IN AUTO CHASE

Out of what police described as a wild, two-mile chase, with her car zigzagging across North Weymouth roads, Miss Mary E. A. Lockney, 22, daughter of the late Thomas F. Lockney, appeared in Quincy Court today with a male companion.

The case was continued without plea until July 20 after the names of the couple had been called out six times, and then solicitor court attaches escorted them out of the building through the judge's chambers.

Maureen's companion was Edmund O'Donnell, 24, of Main street, Malden, described by her as a cousin. They were accompanied to court by her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Lockney, of Vermont street, West Roxbury.

The girl is declared to be active in a number of affairs along the South Shore.

Charles Bartlett, in a police tracing car, made the arrest about 7:45 a. m. in Beach road, North Weymouth.

Doomed Mother's Accomplice Loses

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Sam Faraci, awaiting execution in Sing Sing Prison with Mrs. Anna Antonia and Vincent Satta for the murder of the woman's husband, had failed today in his plea for a new trial on basis of a last minute statement by Satta.
A new trial for Mrs. Antonia, sought on basis of Satta's statement absolving her of blame, was summarily denied. An appeal from this order will be made before the court of appeals Monday.

Hollywood, July 12—Gossips can now write another rumored film feud off the books. Marlene Dietrich and Josef Vogt Sternberg yesterday resumed their lunchtime tea-and-leters and their cordiality left no room for doubt that any professional or personal differences between the two have been ironed out.

The blonde actress and her film mentor drew many glances as they took their side-table at the Paramount commissary, just as in the happiest days of their association.

Trusty's Gun Ends Crime Career of Girl

By International News Service

Little Rock, Ark., July 12—A pretty brunette, who had crowded the slaying of two men and four prison escapes into her 20 years of life, lay dead today, shot down by a trusty.

Hein Speece Eaton made good her threat that she would never be taken alive.

She was shot down by Frank Martin, himself a convicted killer, as she leveled her revolver at her guard.

Hein ended when she entered a farm house late yesterday seeking transportation, she hurried the farm wife who called officers and before Helen, clad in overalls and a man's shirt and shoes, was a mile away she was overtaken by Martin. The trusty said: "I told her to halt. With her hands up."

"She leveled a revolver at me, and I blasted once with my shot-gun. The shot killed her."

The girl escaped from the Jacksonville Prison Farm for Women early yesterday, slugged a watchman and took his revolver. She left behind a note reading:

"The women I may concern I'll never be taken alive."

Through the day a posse, behind flying bloodhounds, culled the woods for her. It was thought she heard the sounds overtaking her and rushed into the farmhouse to commander to aid.

Hein first received notoriety when she took the law into her own hands at the trial of the alleged slayer of her father. The quiet of the court was broken by a gun shot. Helen had shot and fatally wounded the defendant, Jack Wood.

MADE FOUR ESCAPES
Brought to trial, Helen was confined and given five years. With awaiting an appeal she worked as a waitress in a Dewart, Ark., restaurant owned by Jim Bobbs. Shortly afterwards, Bobbs was shot. Helen was suspected of the killing, she was questioned, but released. Then she served two years in prison for slaying Worke. Paroled, she came to Little Rock and confided the murder of Bobbs.

Trind, she was convicted and received ten years.

Three times she escaped from the prison farm, but was captured and returned. The fourth time she escaped she would ever be returned alive. And today her lifeless, bullet-riddled body awaited a prison burial.

BAD FILM WARS PUSHED BY K. OF C.

Indulgent motion picture houses in Boston and throughout the country today were granted the right to air in judgment over the morality of films sent them for exhibition.

The first result of the Legion of Decency campaign for clean pictures, this move was hailed as a body blow at "black booking" even though it applies only to films produced before July 15.

This $100,000 gesture on the part of 10 of Hollywood's producers today was acknowledged as "a step in the right direction" by Joseph M. Kirby, Massachusetts Knight of Columbus leader, but he said it failed to go to the root of the problem.

K. C. CONTINUES FIGHT
In a statement approved by Father Russell M. Sullivan, S. J., Boston College philosophy professor and Cardinal O'Connell representative in the campaign, Mr. Kirby said that his organization will continue its attack "on the source of the present problem of indecent and obscene pictures, namely, the producers."

As their first concrete and far-reaching move in response to the campaign, Hollywood producers today agreed that local exhibitors may omit from exhibition any picture—produced before last Sunday—against which there is a protest on the grounds of immorality.

It is estimated that this means a loss of at least $10,000,000 in potential revenues to the 10 firms that signed the agreement. They are Columbia Pictures Corporation, Educational Film Exchanges, Inc., Fox Film Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc., RKO Distributing Corporation, Paramount Pictures, Distributing Corporation, United Artists Corporation, Universal Pictures Corporation and Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc.

BISHOP'S SERRILL JOINS
The Legion of Decency campaign, launched in full force last Sunday by the Catholic bishops of the country, meanwhile was quickly becoming a non-sectarian movement for silver screen reform in Boston.

Among the latest to join in the drive was Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Serrill. Declaring that the revolt against Hollywood morality was "long overdue," he demonstrated a public loyalty against all intolerance.

Other Protestant and Jewish leaders here also joined in the battle. The Zion Herald, New England Methodist weekly, published an editorial in which it praised the Catholic bishops for their aggressive action against disreputable producers.

EXDIPPEDES IN LINE
Added support for the sponsors of the clean film campaign came also from the Independent Exhibitors of New England, an organization representing 200 affiliated theaters in the six states. This group adopted a resolution urging the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association to lend Kirby's warning and appoint a Boston representative with full power to do all things necessary to gain approval for films.

The resolution also favored discontinuance of obscene pictures and urged producers to bend every effort in the production of clean pictures.

The reform movement within the industry, however, was far from being a local affair. It was indicated it will not stop short with the granting of limited home rule to the exhibitors.

WITHOUT APPEAL
At the same time that the blacklisting rule was rejected, it was announced that changes had been made in the production of films.

Under the new arrangement, the directors of the M. P. D. A. are to assume full responsibility for the character of all films.

Joseph I. Brown, assistant to Davis, will be vested with wide powers in designating what is moral and what is immoral in pictures of the future.

There is to be no appeal in the case of producers as was first planned, the only resort being to the directors of the association.

ONLY APPROVED FILMS
It was also stated in dispatches from the film center that no picture will be distributed or exhibited anywhere that has not been approved by the code administration.

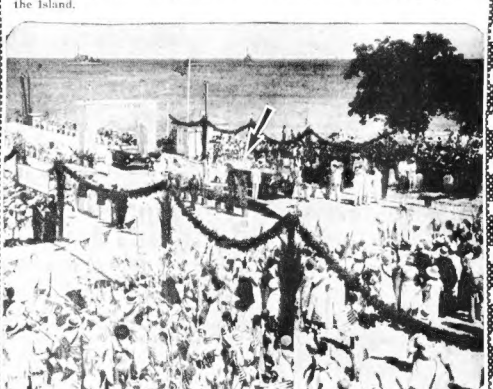

In commenting on the new plan, Kirby said:

"It is recognized that the only cure of the problem of the right kind of screen entertainment rests solely with the quality of the product and these strategic arrangements are directed at discharging that responsibility more effectively."

Virgin Islands Cheer Roosevelt

President Roosevelt, en route to Hawaii on the U. S. S. Houston, found a warm welcome and hot weather at St. Croix, Virgin Islands, where he made a scheduled stop. A glass of cool lemonade quenched his thirst after his visit to the PWA project on the Island.

The President, designated by the arrow, and his party were cheered to an echo when they landed at the Virgin Island for an inspection visit. The warship U. S. S. Houston, on which the President is vacationing on a trip to Hawaii, is shown in the background. Native children sang and the adults cheered themselves hoarse as the President's car parked on the ramp prepared for the occasion. (Pictures from International News Photograph Service.)

ROOSEVELT TO SAIL PACIFIC Too Many Jealous Girls Land Suspect in Cell

Baltimore, C. Z., July 12.—President Roosevelt begins today the longest run of his vacation cruise—one over the Pacific to Hawaii.

The cruiser Houston left today will be sailing into the Pacific and start the 12-day trip which will take Mr. Roosevelt the farthest from home any President has been since Woodrow Wilson went to Versailles.

Cheering lanes of native Panamanians hailed Mr. Roosevelt last night when he visited the presidential palace at Panama, as guest of President Arias.

YOU BET THERE'S A DIFFERENCE IN GASOLINES! ... HERE'S PROOF!

WHERE THE GOING WAS TOUGH—Bear Mt., N.Y., where 9 leading gasolines competed to see which could pull a 3,400 lb. load farthest up a steep mountain grade. Gulf won!

Don't let anyone tell you that it makes little difference which gasoline you use! There's a big difference in even the best-known brands. To prove it, Gulf made a series of power tests with 33 gasolines—and uncovered some facts worth knowing. Read them!

NOTHING gives a gasoline a harder fight than a tough hill—that's where a gasoline proves its power.

For that very reason, Gulf chose 15 of America's toughest hills for a series of show-down power tests—in which 33 gasolines fought it out.

On each of these hills, leading gasolines from local service stations competed to see which could take a car and heavy load farthest up hill in high gear before the motor "died."

It's not an accident up in the clear blue sky that Gulf's 33 gasolines won 32 of the 33 tests.

Here is plain, unprinted evidence—evidence which shows beyond question that it does make a difference which gasoline you put into your tank—a difference you can notice in your motor! Next time try Gulf!

LOADS LIKE THIS—on steep mountain grades tax the power of any gasoline. But in 10 out of 15 power tests Gulf walked away with first honors!

GETTING READY TO START—gas being tested was placed in a jar, which fed direct to the carburetor. This made possible quick changes of gasoline for each test run.

The NEW GULF wins more power tests than 32 gasolines combined

Expected New Commission Head to Direct Sweeping Investigation

By HUGH E. BRADY
The recent remarks of Eugene O. Sykes, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, have been interpreted by many Wall Street traders as a signal that the Federal Reserve Board is about to launch a sweeping investigation into the activities of the stock market. The traders, who are generally optimistic about the future of the market, believe that the investigation will be directed by a new commission head, who will be appointed by the Federal Reserve Board. The traders believe that the investigation will be a thorough one, and that it will result in a number of reforms being implemented in the stock market. They believe that the investigation will be a landmark event in the history of the stock market, and that it will result in a new era of confidence and stability in the market.

Grain Traders Are Stunned by Small Crop Yield

By Associated Press
The report of a small crop yield in the United States has stunned grain traders. The report, which was made public yesterday, has caused a sharp decline in the price of grain. The traders believe that the small crop yield will result in a shortage of grain, and that this will lead to a sharp increase in the price of grain.

On the other hand, R. W. Snow, a private crop authority, has refused to "share a desperate situation while it is in the making." He stated that "the history of American agriculture has probably never before been so full of uncertainty as it is now. The report of a small crop yield has caused a sharp decline in the price of grain. BURNING UP WILSON'S BEST

PANNA FRANKA IS FAVORITE IN FIRST

When they sent him postcard the choice over Star Line. However, his race was somewhat creditable enough to make him a standard in an affair of this sort.

FIRST RACE

Panna Franka, a perennial bullet away from the barrier, was just named out by Mervin in her last start after cutting out stalling pace. The distance of this affair was one-sixteenth of a mile shorter and she had no trouble at all, but she was late in the start. However, she saw him perform in Texas, and he was a world of better speed and will be dangerous. His final was a working half in 47.5. LERAC has received a couple of lighters and should be ready for his best. When right the S. L. Foster owned gelding is a mighty speedy plater.

SECOND RACE

Portfolio, Mayville, Precious Little. Portfolio, a close beginner, was drawn on outside post position in this affair and should have clear sailing throughout. The runner-up was downed by the heavy favorite over better one in the 30th mile. However, he encountered early trouble in that race and was never able to enter serious contention, although he made up a world of ground during the race. MAYVILLE was over her head in her last start, but prior to that she was the Wygodoff field driver. Precious Little won a class in the 30th mile in the meeting and looks next best.

THIRD RACE

Moane Keala, Redlight, Zipalong. MOANE KEALA, one of the best of this race, appears to be well suited by the conditions of this race. The daughter of War has won her last start by a distance in 1:13.30 from the same sort of opposition. REDLIGHT is a while of a race to finish fourth behind Crazy Jane, Toytime and Zornia, the other day, but he couldn't master the top one in their last meeting. REDLIGHT displayed considerable improvement in this third to Fair Value and Happy Seal.

FOURTH RACE

Cantersing, Toytime, Crazy Jane. CANTERSING was in hand to defeat Postscript, Gallarda, and that sort Tuesday. Off that machine performance the center flyline flies all over the winner of this affair. TOYTIME has just finished back soon after the break in her last start. However, once she found clear sailing, the S. W. Le-ho-owned mare closed with her. CRAZY JANE, the latter has a high turn of speed and may hang on long enough to snare the minor award.

FIFTH RACE

Burning Up, Mamie, Pensive. BURNING UP should break on top and make every pole of an affair of this kind a winner. MAMIE was unable to beat her record by her stable connections as Burning Up, in his last race, but that effort was creditable enough to give him the next best shot. PENSIVE was unable to beat his last up to finish fourth behind Ned Jeanine. He is dropping weight and should show more in time to spare the remainder of the season.

SIXTH RACE

Polly Cue, Plumage, Enro. POLLY CUE was the hottest kind of a tip in a six furlong dash the other day. However, the A. A. Burn-owned filly was unable to keep up in the early stages. However, once she found her true stride, she closed swiftly to have the show award behind The Heathers and Enro. Judging by the manner in which Polly Cue ran in that race, she will be better suited at this distance. PLUMAGE, which was scheduled to race this afternoon, should be a better bet than Enro, who was a long shot in his last race.

Now Is Time for a Declaration of Sound American Principles

THE speeches of Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, of the Republican National Committee, and United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, in Jackson, Michigan, on the anniversary of the founding of the Republican Party, are comparable in their vigor and effectiveness with the arraignment of the growth of bureaucracy by Senator Borah in his Fourth of July address.

Each of the speeches at Jackson was a thoughtful, patriotic and sincere discussion of the dangerous trends of the New Deal.

Without flinching from facts, and yet with no exaggeration of them, both Chairman Fletcher and Senator Vandenberg were evidently determined to avoid political carping and partisan fault-finding, and to appeal to their hearers on the broadest grounds of love of country and loyalty to our institutions.

They gave utterance to what every thoughtful man is thinking and to fears which are rising in every patriotic breast as to the ultimate effect upon our form of government and upon our individual liberties of the crude theories and wild fancies now paraded in Washington as the essentials of recovery and reform.

IT IS TIME FOR A DECLARATION OF SOUND AMERICAN PRINCIPLES, AND THEIR DECLARATION CANNOT TOO OFTEN BE REPEATED!

A moment inevitably comes when it is necessary to formulate and declare vital principles. Not to do this is to run the risk of being so carried away by the current of facts that it becomes difficult and even impossible to regain one's hold of fundamental principles.

Chairman Fletcher, in insisting on a return to the sound principles of democracy, denied that his party was opposed to true progress or genuine reform. The necessity to regulate private enterprise and to supervise many industries which are affected by a public interest and owe a public duty was freely conceded.

But the performance of such a duty does not mean the FORSAKING OF EVERY SOUND AND ESTABLISHED PRINCIPLE OF FINANCE, ECONOMICS AND DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT.

Senator Vandenberg, citing the unswerving support which the Republican minority had given to President Roosevelt's measures which were clearly intended to relieve the distressed and to afford emergency support to weakened or imperiled industry, assailed the wanton stretching of these motives to cover subversive political aims and theoretical objectives which have nothing to do with either relief or recovery.

In this, he undoubtedly was speaking for a great number of his countrymen.

We have witnessed the power bestowed in the interest of all turned against the people. We have seen arbitrary assumptions accepted as unquestionable truths. We have beheld a manifest effort to modify the character of the state and the long established order of society, and to substitute something which no one apparently is able to define, but which is clearly alien to the principles and instincts which are characteristic of us as a people.

IT is time these deceitful dreams were replaced by HEALTHY POLITICAL AND ECONOMICAL IDEAS and that the SOBER BUSINESS HABITS, which at all periods have distinguished the American people, SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO RESCUE THE NATION and re-establish its prosperity as it has always done in the crises of the past.

These vigorous addresses should CARRY A WARNING to the secret Fascists and the thinly disguised Socialists of the New Deal that America will never consent to be a regimented nation; that it will never accept a system wholly new to it, under which the spirit of the Constitution is "mocked and mangled"; and that the free and independent citizen of the United States will NOT lightly make over his independence and freedom to a scheme of bureaucratic tyranny and to a horde of tax-fed and parasitic bureaucrats.

Two Fine Girls

The English Girl Won

This picture, showing a fine, young British girl, Dorothy Round, who won the tennis championship at England, and an extremely fine American girl, Helen Jacobs, who nearly won that championship, is EXTREMELY important.

The most important thing to a nation is the quality of its young women. On them depends the quality of the nation's men, whom women create, and on those men depends the success of the nation.

Women, the mothers, are the real creators of national success and of everything else worth while, and they should not forget it or imagine that they would be happier if they could "climb up into the frame and be the painting" instead of being content with the fact that their genius created the painting.

A fine girl is Dorothy Round, Britain's best player, and what a MARVELOUS girl is Helen Jacobs, America's player.

What a splendid product of the human race is this Helen Jacobs, with her fine, earnest face, concentrated eyes, powerful chin, strong neck, marvelous legs and fighting courage.

What a wonderful thing for the United States if she and others like her could be made to realize that the best thing she could possibly do would be to DROP tennis, DROP sports, drop ALL but one thing and devote the rest of her life to the creation and education of ten fine children, five boys and five girls, carefully picking out the father and husband, allowing him fifty points for intelligence and fifty points for kindness.

Welcome Our Tourists

Current indications are that New England's 1934 summer tourist season will be the best in years.

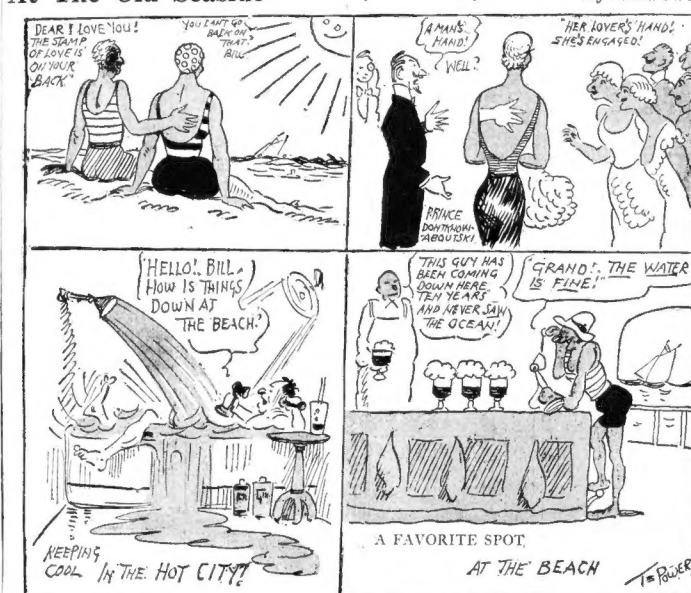

The Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce judges from present travel and inquiries received that this section of the Bay State is going to have a very busy summer.

White Mountain resorts report the largest crowds in several years.

The railway which carries passengers up cog-wheeled rails to the peak of Mount Washington in its first month of operation this year carried more passengers than in any year since 1929.

More tourists mean more money spent in New England. Let's all do everything we can to make it pleasant for our visitors.

At The Old Seaside

Human Side of the News

Two arresting facts spring instantly from the passing of that noble woman, Madam Marie Curie.

The first was that she was permitted to live and die in poverty. The second was that she was a martyr to her own scientific labors.

If the head of the hospital in which she got through with life is to be believed, she was killed by the very mysterious element she herself discovered—radium.

NO PRINCIPLE PENSION

We learn that her only means of support consisted of a grant of £200 a year from the French government, surely not a princely pension!

The woman who brought great glory to France was rewarded with a pittance, and even this pittance she spent mostly in her scientific researches.

She knew that radium was killing her, so, at least, says the physician who treated her—but refused to give up, treating her life as of no importance compared to the possibility of some fascinating discovery in her chosen field of physics.

And now she lies in the Pantheon, with her husband, Pierre, peaceful and happy for the first time in 30 years; for the first time since her young husband stepped out into the street to have his life crushed out by a passing vehicle.

Mme. Curie belongs among the greatest scientists of the world.

She was the No. 1 woman of her generation. Even at 67, in the peak of Marie Curie's life, she was a first-class, white-haired, white-haired old lady, with white blouse and black four-in-hand tie knotted close to her slender throat, worked 12 hours a day, patiently

By Edwin C. Hill

her work had developed enormous in production that reduced the cost of a gram to $20,000. Upon this latter occasion she was received at the White House by President Hoover.

Her work had developed enormous in production that reduced the cost of a gram to $20,000. Upon this latter occasion she was received at the White House by President Hoover.

How CURIES WORKED She disliked romanticizing, either her life or the dreary days which she spent in patient research with her husband. Of those years Paul Appell, president of the Academy of Paris, wrote as follows:

"In this place, with its asphalt floor, its broken and patched glass roof, but in summer, heated by a certain sun, the two women, they performed their wonderful work. The equipment consisted of some old and worn deal tables, upon which Mme. Curie prepared the material for the production of radium."

"On many an afternoon she stirred in a great cauldron with a heavy iron rod, the molten mass of the radioactive products, reaching home at evening exhausted by fatigue."

"The time was yet come to measure the importance of Marie Curie's principal discovery. Will radium or some adaptation of its use eventually end one of the greatest scourges of humanity, cancer?"

If ever that comes to pass, the name of Marie Curie will be listed among the authentic saints.

Roosevelt Leads Fight for Larger Army Air Corps

By James T. Williams, Jr.

Toward the building up of the army air corps to the maximum standard of effectiveness our almost unanimous opinion is that three things are essential:

FIRST—Authorization by Congress, which is charged by the Constitution with the obligation to provide for the common defense, of the strength authorized by Congress.

SECOND—Appropriations by Congress to organize, train, equip and maintain a military air force of the strength authorized by Congress.

THIRD—The most competent administration and command of this military air force which the President as commander-in-chief, with the assistance of his secretary of war and the chief of staff of the army, can provide.

President Roosevelt began his effort to build up the army air corps early in the last session of Congress by approving the recommendation of the War Department that Congress authorize the expansion of the air corps by the addition of a GHQ to air force to consist of five wings.

This authorization, if followed up by the necessary appropriations, will permit the President to increase the strength of the air corps to approximately 4000 men with the personnel necessary to man them.

This program was in accord with the established military policy approved by the Congress. It carried forward the recommendations of the Morrow board, created by President Coolidge in 1925, upon which all subsequent legislation for the development of an effective air force for the United States—military, naval and commercial—has been based.

In the belief that the House committee on military affairs was attempting in good faith to co-operate with the President in building up the army air corps, the Secretary of War approved the request of the committee for the chief of staff prepare a bill embodying the War Department recommendations for a GHQ air force.

PLANS NEW APPEAL With the report of the Baker committee and with the report of the aviation commission appointed just before he started for Hawaii to investigate other aspects of aviation in addition to those considered by the Baker committee, President Roosevelt will appear before the new Congress to authorize and appropriate for the air corps program which the House committee on military affairs pigeon-holed during the last session of Congress.

The American people can then judge for themselves whether Congress ought to support the leadership of the President in the vital matter of national defense or permit the House committee on military affairs under the domination of the James-McLain coalition again to defeat that leadership.
